To our Patients and Friends,

As originally planned, Dr. Lambert has left our practice to take over his father-in-law's practice in Waynesville. We are excited for him and wish him the best in his new endeavor! In his place, Dr. Nigel Morgan has joined our practice to continue the same level of care and expertise you expect from us.

Dr. Morgan is originally from Scotland, but spent most of his childhood in Chapel Hill, North Carolina, and graduated from North Carolina State University with a degree in Psychology. Upon graduation, he worked at Duke University for two years in the Microbiology Laboratory performing Alzheimer's research and with the Center for Aging researching the affects of wheelchair use on the elderly. Dr. Morgan continued his educational pursuits at Boston University School of Public Health and graduated in 2000 with a Master's in Public Health focusing on Environmental Health. After graduation, he returned to Chapel Hill and worked in a prosthodontic dental practice for a year before starting Dental School at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Dr. Morgan graduated with a Doctorate in Dental Surgery in 2005. Since graduation he has been working as the Director of the Haywood County Dental Clinic in Waynesville.

While working at the Haywood County Dental Clinic, Dr. Morgan was involved in Health Fairs to help promote the importance of oral health. He also provided dental screenings to Smart Start Daycare centers and educated parents on how to take care of their children's teeth. Dr. Morgan was appointed as an Adjunct Instructor in the Department of Dental Ecology in the School of Dentistry at UNC for his involvement in training dental students during their summer rotations.

Dr. Morgan lives in Asheville with his wife of 9 years, Felisa, and their two young daughters, Selia and Ella. He enjoys hiking to the many waterfalls in the area with his family. He is an avid triathlete and has completed the Ironman Triathlon World Championship in Hawaii five times. His professional affiliations include memberships with the American Dental Association, the North Carolina Dental Society, and the Academy of General Dentistry.

We are excited to introduce Dr. Morgan to you and welcome his skill and expertise into our practice!

Respectfully,

Timothy E. Gillespie, DMD, FAGD
